Ref. Sharmen Lane

To Whom It May Concern:

We recently asked motivational speaker Shar Lane to come to a lia sophia Regional Meeting to enlighten us with her leading edge ideas on "creating our fate." It was a great success!

lia sophia is a leader in direct sales of fine fashion jewelry. One of the keys to the company's success is consistent encouragement and motivation for our advisors in the field.

Shar's presentation was an inspiration to my team of women business owners. Many of the women present have since written to me about the steps they've taken to "find their true passion" and direction. Their businesses have flourished as a result; my Region has promoted six women to management in the last three months!

A true professional, Shar ensured the content of her presentation was in line with our goals. Not only did she customize it, she also gave us practical HOW TO steps to put this wisdom to work for us. She presented them in a simple, easily understandable format and with great passion.

I would recommend Shar Lane to any group or individual looking to overcome obstacles on their way toward achieving their goals. Her straight-forward, thought-provoking ideas move you both emotionally and intellectually.

Her fearless story is one that deserves to be shared. In our book, Shar Lane = motivation!
